

Demo Video as per Guidelines

The screenshot displays a web application for COVID-19 diagnosis. On the left, a video feed shows a man. The main interface includes a chest X-ray image with a 'Change Image' button below it. A 'Run AI Prediction' button is prominently displayed. Below this are 'Copy Summary' and 'Clear Session' buttons. A 'Report Profile' section contains input fields for Hospital Name (Medical AI Diagnostic Portal), Hospital Address (123 Trichy, India), Doctor Name (Dr. Olivia Greene), Specialization (Doctor), Visit Date, and Patient Name. The 'Diagnosis Results' section on the right shows a 'Medium confidence' status, a 'COVID' classification with 70.51% AI Confidence, and a progress bar. It also includes a 'What To Do Next' section with 'Likely Condition: COVID-19 pattern suspected', 'Urgency: Prompt physician review recommended within the same day.', 'Recommended Actions' (isolate patient, check oxygen saturation, correlate with symptoms), and 'Red Flags' (SpO2 below 94%, increasing shortness of breath, persistent high fever or chest pain). A 'Follow-Up' instruction is also present. At the bottom right, there are buttons for 'AI Clinical Insight', 'Generate Insight', 'TXT', and 'PDF'. A disclaimer at the bottom states 'Research use only. Not for final clinical diagnostic use.'
